History and Mandate of the Council

The Ottawa Declaration (1996) formally established the Arctic Council as a high level intergovernmental forum to promote cooperation, coordination and interaction among the Arctic States, with the involvement of the Arctic indigenous communities and other Arctic inhabitants on common Arctic issues.

Particular emphasis on sustainable development and environmental protection in the Arctic; military security issues are specifically excluded from the Council's mandate.

Arctic Council Structure: U.S. Chairmanship

U.S. Chairmanship Team

Chair of the Arctic Council: Secretary of State John F. Kerry

U.S. Special Representative for the Arctic: Admiral Robert J. Papp, Jr.

Special Advisor on Arctic Science and Policy: Fran Ulmer

Chair of the Senior Arctic Officials: Ambassador David Balton

U.S. Senior Arctic Official: Julia L. Gourley

Overarching Goals

- Continue strengthening the Arctic Council as an intergovernmental forum
- Introduce new long-term priorities into the Arctic Council
- Raise Arctic and climate change awareness domestically and across the world
